Against runway expansion

City can contribute to airport fight

By DALE GOWING
Of The Roman Staff

The Romulus homeowners association seeking to halt the proposed runway expansion program at Detroit Metropolitan Airport breathed a heavy sigh of relief last night, when the City of Romulus announced it legally can contribute funds to a lawsuit seeking an injunction against the runway expansion.

City Attorney William Munger told the city council that Romulus could participate in a lawsuit against the Wayne County Road Commission (WCRC) - operated airport if it so desires, ending the homeowners' fear of a state law stating that one governmental unit (the city) cannot sue another governmental

'The city already has gotten indication from school district that it wishes to participate, too' unit (the road commission).

"The matter has been resolved and Romulus may contribute funds," Munger said. "And I have every reason to believe that the city will be joining in the lawsuit. The city already has gotten indication from the school district that it wishes to participate, too."

The school district is concerned because several schools are affected by airport noise.

ESTIMATED COST of seeking an injunction is $30,000, which includes lawyers' and specialists' fees.

Some school board members have suggested to city council members that the two bodies divide the cost of the lawsuit.

Mayor Terry L. Troutt has said earlier that if the city legally could contribute funds "it would do so, I'm sure."

School Supt. Robert McConeghy also expressed support for the case.

The homeowners association, called

RANAC (Romulus Airport Neighborhood Action Committee), has been advised by its attorney that it has less than three weeks to secure a court injunction against the expansion program at the airport, since construction is scheduled to begin in about four weeks.

RANAC MEMBERS live in the Oakbrooke

Subdivision, south of the airport. They claim that noise from landing and departing aircraft is severe over their subdivision and further expansion would only worsen the problem.

They primarily are trying to stop construction of a proposed east-west runway that would bring aircraft nearer to their homes.

Another smaller east-west runway is planned along with a north-south runway, which would not affect the residents as much.

RANAC was holding its breath on whether the city and schools could handle the court costs, and vowed to take out loans and sponsor fund-raising projects if they could not get the support.

Township to join fight against Metro Airport

Huron Township's supervisor is eyeing a link-up between the township and the Romulus homeowners association planning to seek a court injunction against a runway expansion program at Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

Huron Supervisor George W. Moore said the current noise problem from airplanes landing and departing from the airport already is a nuisance in the township, and complained that further runway expansion would only worsen the problem.

"The planes sail right over our township hall right now," he complained. "At one township board meeting we counted 54 planes going overhead. With the expansion, there will be 1,000 flights a day — one every 45 seconds in all."

THE SOLUTION is to join forces with one or more other groups fighting the airport, he said. He figures Huron alone wouldn't pack much of a wallop in such a battle by itself.

"Our best hope is to join RANAC or something else like it," he said.

RANAC stands for the Romulus Airport Neighborhood Action Committee, a group of Romulus homeowners in a subdivision south of the airport waging a fight against the proposed addition of three runways at Metro.

"With the expansion, the airport will come one-half mile from our township line," Moore said. "But the noise actually starts seven miles away when the planes start their approaches. And the approach pattern is right over the center of the township."

RANAC's primary concern is the proposed east-west runway, which would route flight traffic directly over the Oakbrooke Subdivision, where the homeowners live. RANAC is seeking financial and legal support from the City of Romulus and the Romulus School District to fight the expansion.

However, Moore fears that if RANAC succeeds in at least curtailing the construction of the east-west runway, the flights will all be re-routed to the north-south runway — which directly affects Huron.

Unlicensed pet problem very serious in Romulus

The problem of unlicensed pets in Romulus is "a lot more serious" than the city's animal control officer originally thought, after surveying the results of the first week of door-to-door canvassing by police.

George Hargroves, chief administrator of the Romulus Animal Control Division, said the number of homeowners illegally owning and housing animals in Romulus is even higher than an earlier figure he had given, which estimated that one-third of the homeowners in Romulus are in violation of the city's animal ordinances.

"The division has two officers going door-to-door each day hitting about 30 houses in all," Hargroves said. "And they are issuing about 12 to 16 tickets a day for pet violations."

"THIS THING'S getting serious. I want everyone to know that any violators caught will go to court."

The program of door-to-door searches for unlicensed pets and illegally kept livestock was triggered in part by a rift between the city and a resident who allegedly was housing animals illegally.

The resident was housing four ponies and a horse on residentially-zoned property and was ordered by Wayne County Circuit Court Judge James B. Stone to remove the animals from the property.

Another incident last week ruffled the ire of Hargroves even more, when an unlicensed dog attacked and mauled a 9-year-old Romulus boy.

ACCORDING TO police, Roger Helms of 8510 Farnum, was attacked by a German shepherd dog as the boy was walking home along Middlebelt Road. The dog reportedly bit the Helms boy several times in the arm before being driven off by a neighbor with a club.

The neighbor then led the boy home, police said. But the dog followed and attacked again. The boy's father shot the dog several times before Wayne County Sheriff's Patrol deputies were called and destroyed the dog.

The dog's head was sent to the Wayne County Health Department for rabies analysis.

Hargroves said the Helms boy has not had to undergo rabies shots yet, pending results of the tests. He did, however, have to have surgery for several teeth punctures on an arm.

New deputies hinge on OK from council

Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt said an amendment to approve the assignment of three Wayne County sheriff's deputies exclusively to Romulus will be introduced to the city council at its meeting Tuesday.

"Hopefully they will be approved and can start working July 15," Troutt said. "The city has the pick of men it wants."

The deputies would be under the jurisdiction of the Wayne County Sheriff, but would operate 40 hours a week out of a small sub-station in Romulus. Two of the officers would handle criminal investigations and the third would be assigned to juvenile duties.

Dream becomes reality

City gets its farmers mart

By DALE GOWING
Of The Roman Staff

A dream to make Romulus a leading commercial center in Western Wayne County each Saturday during the summer will come a step closer to becoming reality July 20, when a proposed farmers market begins operations.

With as many as 100 produce merchants, artists and craftsmen hoped for on the initial Saturday, the market will begin operations in the city hall-library complex parking lot.

According to Romulus Mayor Pro-Tem Beverly McAnally, spokesman for an 18-member organizing group, the market will afford residents and citizens from surrounding communities the opportunity to market their produce and crafts while also serving as a means of "bringing the people of Romulus together."

"THERE'S NO PLACE in this community where people come together," she said when the farmers mart idea was born. "Everyone revolves in their own social circles, which may center around politics or around a social club or a civic group, but few of the circles entwine. This city needs something to get everyone together."

She is optimistic that the farmers mart is the answer. "I visualize a row of trucks from which farmers, who have paid a small fee to participate, sell their products to citizens from Romulus and other cities," Mrs. McAnally said.

"It will give Romulus residents a chance to get together on Saturday mornings, farmers a chance to sell their produce and others who have something to offer a market place to present it."

THE MARKET will operate from 7:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

each Saturday from July 20 until Sept. 31.

Merchants from Romulus who wish to display and sell their wares will be assessed a $3 daily fee while the non-to 100 booths, but admitted that her committee would be happy to have 25 or 30 on the first day.

"That's being very optimistic, too, because Wyandotte had only four tatives, the Pontiac market has had a beneficial effect on surrounding business because it attracted a large number of people into an area that they would not ordinarily visit.

Persons interested in occupying a booth at the market may obtain a permit from the city clerk's office. Health cards also must be obtained by sellers of food items.

Mrs. McAnally expressed hope that area garden clubs also will utilize the farmer's market service as a means of publicizing their goods. She cited the fact that because many Romulus residents will be home-bound this summer due to the high price of gasoline, the market could be advantageous to them.

"BECAUSE OF the high price of gasoline, this summer may find many Romulus residents home-bound, unable to take advantage of the activities and shopping facilities offered by adjacent communities," she said.

"The farmer mart organizing group believes that the city has the responsibility to exercise imagination and inventiveness in providing wholesome and beneficial activities for its residents, as in a farmer's market."

"We also believe that a Saturday farmer's market would not only provide a beneficial activity for the residents but improve the image of Romulus as well."

Organizers of the market include Donna Lee Zavitz, Marilyn Radford, Laverne McGee, Robert Lee, Bob and Diane Knight, Geneva Clark, Genevieve Dugan, Ro Plocki and Fred Williams, Marilyn Vaught, Pearl Brown, Charlotte Troutt, Jack Trumble, Theresa Bryant, Diane Hazen, Carole Bales, Ervin Icenogle, John Percy and Mrs. McAnally.

'This city needs something to get everyone together.'

resident fee will be $7, she said.

The city council has authorized the transferring of $1,000 from the treasurer's capital outlay account to a special farmers mart account, to be used in providing stall space, 110-volt single phase electrical outlets, park benches, publicity and clean-up at each week's market.

Mrs. McAnally said approximately 60 letters have been mailed to area producers inviting them to participate in the market, but added that few replies had been received yet.

SHE SAID THE parking lot grounds could accommodate up booths operating on its first day," she said.

The Romulus group got the idea for a farmer's mart from a similar one in Wyandotte and another in Pontiac.

"Initial reaction both from residents and from the press have been positive," Mrs. McAnally told the city council in a committee prospectus. "There have been calls to city hall inquiring about obtaining permits."

CONCERN HAS been expressed by businessmen engaged in market activity.

According to Mrs. Marguerite Simson, council person from Pontiac who met with Romulus represen-

Huron officials eye youth hockey group

Huron Township officials are studying the possibility of forming a youth hockey association with the cities of Flat Rock and Gibraltar.

The township's board of trustees has received a letter from Flat Rock officials asking if the township would be interested in such a league, according to Huron Township Clerk Mary Lou Carey.

She said such an association would fall in line with the township's current emphasis on recreation.

"Huron officials feel we've done more for recreation lately than ever before, and this would add to our programs," she added. "We have a planned recreation program for the summer and we made federal revenue sharing funds available to the year-round projects."

"Our current hope is that the park the township is building on Huron River Drive north of West Road will be all set by next spring."

She said plans call for the park to have tennis courts and a baseball diamond.

The proposed hockey association would sprout out of Flat Rock, which already sponsors the Flat Rock Hockey Association.

"I think the township would be interested in joining, but the name of the association would have to be changed," she mused.

'The Number' needs volunteers

"The Number," a crisis counseling center, is holding training sessions this week for its crisis telephone staff.

The volunteer may be either male or female, feel a personal need to help others; be of any age, and must be willing to commit himself to working one 4-hour shift a weekly for approximately six months.

Anyone interested in becoming a volunteer should call Kathy Calvillo, the director of the center, at 699-7377.

Although the original concept of "The Number" was as a drug abuse agency working with youth, drug related calls account for only about one-fifth of the total calls.

The majority of calls coming into "The Number" deal with personal and family crises.

"The Number" gets calls from people of all ages who are lonely, who are going through a marital crisis, who have had a fight with their boss, parent or mate, as well as the young who are having a problem with drugs," she added.

"The Number", of course, provides help in a drug crisis, drug information to parents and youth, and analysis and identification of drugs.

But in addition volunteers are well-trained in crisis intervention and able to give callers both personal help and referrals to other agencies when needed.

Assistance to others is thrift shop's work

Nothing is more satisfying than helping others, according to Florence Kline and her associates who operate the Helping Hand Thrift Shop in Romulus.

The Thrift Shop is winding down for the summer its functions of donating clothing and household goods to area needy families and others who don't qualify for governmental assistance but are financially plagued just the same.

'It's so satisfying to be able to help...'

The charitable operators of the shop in the basement of the Romulus School District's Special Services Building are looking back on their eighth year of assisting area families, and talk with pride about the more than 20,000 items of clothing and other goods they distributed since last September.

"IT'S SO SATISFYING to be able to help a person or a family with a need," said Mrs. Kline, director and one of the founders of the Thrift Shop.

"The thing I enjoy most is being able to do things for people, and I feel the shop is doing a very important community service here."

The shop is stocked entirely by donations of clothing, and receives no government subsidies whatsoever. Church groups supply the major portion of clothing and toys to be distributed free, but she added that civic groups and private citizens lend a hand, too.

Any cash donations received go toward the paying of the shop's telephone and postage stamp bills, and the purchasing of items like needles and thread to repair damaged clothes before they are distributed. None of the workers are paid.

"THE SHOP operated under $300 last year," Mrs. Kline said.

It is open each Thursday from September through June and will continue until July 18 this season. The summer hours are 9 a.m. to noon. Most of the summer will be spent preparing for the fall reopening, she said.

Mrs. Kline, a mother of five whose husband, Anthony, is a carpenter, said the shop served people from numerous communities besides Romulus this year, and welcomed more than 1,000 families.

On a typical Thursday, five to 10 families would visit the shop, she said.

PERSONS REQUESTING the clothing and other items must have a referral slip from a doctor, school principal or social worker verifying their need, she added. The persons may then shop through the racks of clothing and boxes of toys and pick out whatever they want.

"The Thrift Shop is there to help them help themselves," Mrs. Kline said. "We have even shown people how to do things like sew and mend."

She is quick to point out the distinct difference between the Thrift Shop and organizations like Goodwill Industries and the Salvation Army.

"The difference is the donation of our time, and I think we're the only agency that people bring things to instead of us picking the items up," she said.

City contributes to fight

"WE FEEL if we don't stop those runways, the FAA (Federal Aviation Administration) will come out and reappraise our homes for even less than we can get for them now," said RANAC Chairman Fouad Berry.

One of the chief complaints of the homeowners is the dwindling value of their homes, on which they blame the noise from aircraft. Berry said many homes in the subdivision have been assessed for several thousand dollars less than their original purchase price.

"If we want to move, we have to move down and take a drastic loss," he said. "We're losing our shirts."

"We are taxpayers, though we are not a big group, and we contribute to this city. We're asking the city to join with us in a direct frontal assault on the airport."

RANAC HOMEOWNERS already have collected $1,400 to pay the costs of transporting California attorney Jerrold A. Fadern here. Fadern is renowned in California law circles for his successful airport litigation in that state and was therefore retained by the Romulus group.

According to Fadern, who addressed some 400-500 Oakbrook residents Friday at the Romulus High School Auditorium, RANAC must prove that the existing runways at the airport are harmful in regard to noise before trying to prove that the unexisting runways would be.

Also, he said the Environmental Impact Statement filed by the airport is inaccurate, giving cause for expansion delay.

"The statement is supposed to explain why the airport needs the additional three runways, but according to it, there is no need," he said.

"THE STATEMENT presents noise projections in 1980 in Romulus based on a maximum of 21 takeoffs and 21 landings on one runway per day. If only 42 operations are taking place on one runway in 1980, they don't need another runway. They can do that on the one they have now."

"If they have a need for the extra runways, they haven't given a fair picture of the noise projection. On the other hand, maybe they have no need."

"One-hundred fifty operations a day on the runways is more representative and that will wipe Romulus out," he said.

However, the airport has argued that an FAA rule states that the airport must have two east-west runways for safety purposes.

FADERN SAID the injunctive action "must be taken in the next three weeks if we hope to stop the construction."

"I hope the construction can be prevented altogether, but even postponing it for five years has a value," Fadern said. "By stopping it temporarily, it will make them think about your problems a little more."

Berry said RANAC's priorities are securing the injunction, then possibly asking for a curfew on night flights and the re-routing of noiser planes to runways that would not affect the residents as much.

WCRC Assistant Managing Director Michael Zolk said he sympathizes with their problem, "but they must also recognize that the airlines, FAA and Road Commission are trying to correct the problem," he said.

"MAYBE WE can do it by installing quieter airplane engines or by using different landing approaches."

He admitted that a curfew on night flights "may be one answer," but said it has its drawbacks, too.

Residents want to increase livestock group's members

A group of Romulus residents are seeking members for the Romulus Horsemen's Association.

Forty residents who own livestock in the city banded together last week in an effort to improve the life of the animal owner in the community and to lobby for more recreational opportunities for the livestock owners.

"The association's dedicated to developing such activities as bridle paths and riding ranges for animals," said Charlotte McBride, vice president of the association.

"In addition the association's intent is to improve information on livestock care for owners of animals.

"AT THIS TIME, the association has established a list of emergency phone numbers for members who may be having trouble with city ordinances or who may need references on animal care."

Association members are embarking on the membership drive to gain more influence in the community in an effort to lobby against the tightening of city ordinances against animal ownership, Mrs. McBride said.

"The association believes that a resident who owns enough land should be allowed to keep animals," she added.

"Present city zoning restrictions are limiting those areas where people can own animals, regardless of the size of the land they own."

MEMBERSHIP chairpersons for the drive are Ray Doktor and Barb Schultz.

Mrs. McBride added that residents interested in joining the livestock group can contact Doktor by calling 941-3975 or can contact Mrs. Schultz by calling 941-4670.

19 residents in township filing for Huron offices

Nineteen Huron Township residents, including eight incumbents, have filed for the Aug. 6 primary election for township government posts to be decided in the November general election.

Township Supervisor George W. Moore, a Democrat, and former Republican supervisor George Angel were the only persons to file for that post. They will face each other in the November election. Angel, 67, resides at 35249 Huron River Dr.

Filing for township clerk before the June 18 deadline were three Democrats, including incumbent Mary Lou Carey. The primary victor will then run unopposed in November.

THE CLERK candidates are Janet Rice, 32, of 28719 Mineral Springs Rd., and Sandy Rhodes, 32, of 36994 Evans St.

Entered in the primary for the right to meet Republican incumbent Edward Helwig for office of treasurer in November are Democrats Alfred J. Cady Jr., 42, of 37258 Willow Rd., and Nils O. Carlson, 59, of 33805 Huron River Dr. Helwig was the only Republican to file for the nomination.

Six Democrats and one Republican are candidates for two township trustee vacancies, including incumbents Ray C. Baker, a Republican, and Harvey Carey, a Democrat.

It's new ballgame

Vice-president's 'honeymoon' disrupted

Editor's note: After 25 years in politics, most of them as part of the loyal opposition, he found himself in a new ballgame, and the transition was not without its problems. This second installment of "Jerry Ford, Up Close" examines the new vice-president's first days in office.

Jerry Ford had been vice-president scarcely a month when his honeymoon with press and voter rudely was disrupted. It wasn't enough of a jolt to end the honeymoon, but it was enough to teach Ford a new lesson in Watergate-era politics.

On Jan. 15 there was an assignment for the vice-president: address the American Farm Bureau Federation's annual convention in Atlantic City. His speech began innocuously enough and then flopped with a louder report than the high-diving horse.

There was a problem not material but mental: confidence in the presidency, he said. According to some polls, it had seldom been lower.

"A FEW EXTREME partisans seem determined to make it worse, some seem bent on stretching out the ordeal of Watergate for their own purposes, whatever they might be.

"While the Farm Bureau is meeting here to discuss solving some of the nation's problems, a coalition of groups like the AFL-CIO, Americans for Democratic Action and other powerful pressure organizations is waging a massive propaganda campaign against the President of the United States.

"And make no mistake about it — it is an all-out attack. Their aim is total victory, total defeat not only of President Nixon, but of the policies for which he stands.

"If they can crush the President and his philosophy, they are convinced they can then dominate the Congress, and through it, the nation."

THE NEXT DAY Ford received a telephone call in his office while I was conducting an interview with him. He asked if I would mind stepping out of his office a moment. Press Secretary Miltich stepped out, too, and chatted in the outer office.

Ford's loud "thank you" came through the wall. We returned.

"That was the President," Ford said, smiling. "He liked my speech in Atlantic City."

"He should," I said.

"Yeah," said Ford, with the faintest of knowing tones in his voice. Faint, but there.

Mrs. Ford commented later that she and Susan knew when they heard the speech broadcast that it must have come from the White House, it was phrased in language unfamiliar to anyone who had listened to Ford's speeches for years.

Ford and his staff readily acknowledged the speech had been written by White House speech writers. Ford was looking for two but had yet to hire any. Miltich was "too busy" to write speeches any longer, they all said.

The White House had anticipated he would be. On Dec. 5 Miltich had been summoned to the White House to lunch with a battery of speech writers who offered to do Ford's speeches as long as necessary.

NO LESS SIGNIFICANT an observer than William S. White called the speech nationally divisive. He called it "grievous error" and urged Ford to "disentangle himself."

Ford stuck to his guns and said he would have said the same thing, although maybe in different words.

The furor lasted a week, a good lifespan for a purely political furor in early 1974. If Nixon had picked Ford as a lightning rod, he had picked a durable one.

Then came the special election in Ford's own fifth District in Michigan to fill his vacant seat in Congress. Republican Robert VanderLaan, state Senate majority leader, was expected to win handily, if not with the usual 60 per cent or more of the vote. Jerry Ford always had received. VanderLaan had disassociated himself from Nixon, had the benefit of Ford's appearance on his behalf, plus a campaign visit by Elliot Richardson himself — the Nixon defier.

VANDERLAAN'S opponent, Democrat Richard F. VanderVeen, a lawyer, said the election constituted a referendum on Nixon and Watergate. Furthermore, he cleverly called on the President to resign and "put Jerry in the White House."

VanderLaan, in 15 elections, had never lost one. VanderVeen had never won election to any significant office; in 1958 he had run against Ford for Congress and Ford had won 63 per cent of the vote. VanderVeen won with 55,008 votes to 46,158 for VanderLaan.

The voting history of the district alone is enough to explain Republicans' shock, locally and nationally. They had held the seat for 64 years, and Ford routinely had won 60 per cent of the vote, or more.

By BUD VESTAL

Now a chronic loser — VanderVeen had run for mayor as well as other offices — had taken a strong Republican candidate to the cleaners on one issue: Watergate.

DESPITE THEIR gnawing fears and the warnings from Washington, Republicans really had not expected such a debacle.

A fiction writer could not have picked a symbol that would hurt Republicans more than the fifth District election.

The Dick and Jerry show still was running. They were toughing it out on the Potomac. Most critics felt it couldn't possibly last the better part of three years. Sooner or later there would have to be a resolution of the action, a catharsis, an end to a very strange agony.

As a rookie, Congressman Ford had opened shop with a staff of three. On becoming vice-president he had available to him a million dollars a year office-salary allowance and a table of organization authorizing 60 warm bodies. Enough, a taxpayer might think, to keep a king's court functioning.

FORD HAD BUILT a staff of 14 people he knew and trusted. It was heavy on Michigan rather than Washington origins. He took this staff with him as a nucleus when he moved from cramped quarters in the Capitol to the Old Executive Office Building. Ford was given a large suite of offices (with kitchen, even on the second floor exactly above the President Nixon's first-floor sanctum).

There were new titles for some: Robert Hartmann, his administrative aide, became "chief of staff." Press Secretary Paul Miltich kept the same title but quickly got an assistant, John W. "Bill" Roberts, with a broadcast-news-media background.

A former Washington correspondent for the Los Angeles Times who had turned political professional and moved from one job to another and better one as opportunity came, Hartmann, at 56, had been in Washington many years. His own politics were conservative Republican. He had known Nixon in the old California days; he had covered state politics when Nixon was starting his climb.

Hartmann had first met Ford at Washington parties. At the time he was hired by the House Republican Conference to assist Mel Laird and Ford, in 1966, he had known Laird longer and better. When Laird became Secretary of Defense, Hartmann went on Ford's staff full-time, still marveling at what he saw in the man.

"CALVINISTIC," Hartmann once commented in describing Ford's stern code of personal conduct. He said Ford, because of his loyalty, took much longer than others to become disillusioned with Agnew but "left Agnew completely" when in one bitter moment he learned "Agnew had looked him in the eye and lied to him."

Therefore, Hartmann believed there was a simple answer to the question of how long Ford would remain loyal to Nixon. Until and unless Ford came to believe the President had not told, was not telling, the truth to Ford. Then the loss of loyalty would be total.

But Hartmann felt that Ford might remain loyal too long for his own good because in his (Hartmann's) judgment, the total situation in the White House was "unraveling like a double-knit jacket once a tear starts."

In American politics there are many times when a man like Ford needs a man like Hartmann: Somebody has to be devil's advocate and worry about the what-ifs; somebody has to know where political skeletons are buried and where the traps, tigers and dangers are lurking.

JUST THE OPPOSITE kind of man was Paul Miltich, the veteran press secretary Ford took with him to the Old Executive Offices. Miltich, 54, had been Ford's press secretary since 1966, coming from the ranks of newsmen as Hartmann had.

After World War II, Miltich went to Saginaw, Mich., where he started as a reporter and music critic. He became assistant city editor of The Saginaw News, and in 1957 went to Booth Newspapers Washington bureau, where he met Ford. Miltich had covered the events up to and including Ford's elevation to House minority leader in 1965. When Ford needed a press secretary, it was he who initiated conversations with Miltich about taking the job.

Washington news media enjoyed reporting the fact — and it was fact — that Hartmann and Miltich did not get along very well, that each had his own view and therefore gave Ford differing counsel. Hartmann was conservative, Miltich a political moderate. Hartmann was full of ambition for Ford, Miltich constrained by an ethic.

With Ford, as always, was his personal assistant, Mildred Leonard. The Congressional Quarterly noted tersely that she had been his congressional executive secretary twenty-two years. Those few words carry a world of meaning in Washington palace politics. They meant she knew almost as much as Ford knew about the past, present and future—Ford's Rose Mary Woods.

Candidates pat selves on back in their politican announcement

The filing deadline for candidates for political office has passed and with it has ended another of the biannual flurries of self-laudatory pronouncements known as political announcements.

The announcement by a political candidate generally is written up in the form of a news story in hopes that local media, pressed for time and space, will use it as is.

It generally details how the candidate, if he is an incumbent, has been doing an incredibly good job for his constituents.

HE IS RUNNING because he wants to serve the people, not because he has a nice office or a nice salary or because he sees whatever he is running for as a stepping stone.

If he is in the legislature already, he has been carrying a heavy load serving the people. He belongs to a large number of committees. If those committees include an assignment such as appropriations or taxation, then they are described as "the powerful appropriations committee" or "the influential appropriations committee."

The lawmaker usually has earned recognition of some sort in the form of awards from special interest groups or assignments to attend conferences of some sort or another. The special interest groups and the lawmakers create enough awards and special conferences to go around.

Lest the reader think this analysis is a little too harsh or cynical, here is a sampling from the announcement statements of a few legislators:

STATE SEN. James Fleming (R-Jackson) in announcing for a new circuit judgeship wrote: "Fleming uniquely is qualified to serve as a circuit judge."

Sen. Carl Pursell (R-Livonia) told us in his news release: "Pursell has become one of the most respected members of the Senate's powerful appropriations committee."

Rep. John Markes (D-Westland) related in his news release that he had been picked to attend the Eagleton Institute of Politics at Rutgers University.

"The institute, he said, selects legislators for the honor who are able, thorough and who demonstrate strong leadership potential," he continued.

SEN. JOHN F. Toeppe, (R-Cadillac) said he is "holder of one of the most influential positions in the Michigan Legislature."

"During the past 12 years, the Cadillac Republican has gained considerable policy leverage," Toeppe's release continued.

Rep. Bobby D. Crim (D-Davison) told readers he is "noted for his energetic, hard-driving way of getting things done" and is "widely recognized throughout the state for his complete grasp of the complex issues confronting the legislature."

Crim's release noted he was first elected to the House in 1964.

"AFTER ONE TERM he returned to local government and then served as executive secretary of the House Democratic Caucus before running again in 1972," it said.

It did not say he was beaten in a reelection bid in 1966 and then had a new district drawn for him in the 1972 reapportionment.

There are others, but this is a representative sample. Not one legislator admitted to belonging to any weak committees. Not one said he was one of the laziest or one of the least influential members.

And obviously for some to be "more powerful" and "more influential" some have to be less powerful and less influential.

This is not to suggest anything terribly is wrong with the practice. It would be unrealistic to expect legislators to be blunt about their shortcomings, even if it might be refreshing.

But it is just another example of why so much of what people in political life say is taken with large doses of salt. Until they start admitting their shortcomings, and no one should hold their breath waiting for that, their claims of accomplishment will ring hollow.

Voice of the people

He's proud, content to be from America

To The Editor: I am a young man presently serving in the U.S. Marine Corps and have lived in Western Wayne County for 19 years. I have enclosed an open letter to all citizens and subscribers to your newspaper, one which I am glad to say I subscribe to.

Ronald K. Duty
Private First Class
U.S. Marine Corps
Camp Pendleton, Calif.

In times such as these an American may find it hard to be proud, or even content to be an American. Reading the papers, listening to newscasts, and hearing friends talk disparagingly of our times can be disheartening.

The Fourth of July, the birthday of our nation, was hallowed. Now, no one stops to think why they have that day off from work. Times are changing. Yes, they are.

BUT WHY? Must it be for worse? This country was built on a great truth. "That all men are endowed by their creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

This nation went through more trials in a short time than any other nation on the face of the earth. Our ancestors suffered great hardships to make a dream come true. One nation under God — Free.

Now, it seems no one cares. It's better to win by cheating. It's better to quit than fight. It's better to find fault than good. It's better to appease than stand firm. Can't men learn from their mistakes?

I'm an American and I feel proud and fortunate to be one. I find good in my country. Sure, I "sound off." But I don't make rash statements I can't back up.

I FEEL OTHERS should count their blessings before speaking out without any thought to the consequences, lowering not only themselves, but the prestige of their country.

I'm a marine. I came to be one because I always had wanted to be one, to walk and perhaps fight among the "best."

I wish all marines would be proud to serve. I wish all young males would be proud to serve. At times I feel depressed.

Others always are complaining, always finding fault. They say that they should have stayed at home, that the marines take and don't give. I've been in the corps only nine months, but I can't find any reason to damn the corps or complain.

It's a job, a way of life. It gives, and it takes. The marine corps is something to live and grow with. It's not just a phrase, or a service to the military. It's alive; it breathes. The corps has a brilliant past. And I trust the future is going to be the same.

I write this so the people back home, and all Americans as a whole, may stop and say: "Yes, the youth of America can save us. We still can be the carriers of the banner of freedom and equality for all."

I COME FROM a town where few young men join the services.

I know because it's our town. I'm sorry to say that a lot of people transmit a negative type of feeling towards the armed forces, people like you, who think of themselves as informal, liberal minded people are all ready to condemn and find fault with our government and our military.

Well, I love my home, I love my family, I even love these fools who put the armed forces down all the time, criticizing the way our well disciplined men protect the United States.

Once again I will say: "I am a marine because I'm proud of it."

"I GET A lump in my throat when I hear our national anthem. My eyes moisten at the sound of the Marine Corps Hymn, I feel remorse when I see row upon row of white crosses in Arlington Cemetery. I feel sick when I see an American flag being burned; I feel pity when I see a deserter in the brig."

Sometimes I want to yell in anger when I see my country being ridiculed, torn apart from within; but I don't.

I won't lower myself to the tactics of these people. But I want them to know that many of us stand ready to defend them, regardless of their "mouthing off."

We are marines, we are Americans, and we are dedicated to our job. Yes, we are even ready to die for them and a just cause — America!

Belleville resident urges airport action

To The Editor: The people around Detroit Metropolitan Airport in Romulus have decided it was worth getting together to save their homes from the noise of the planes taking off and landing. They should have gotten together 10 years ago.

Belleville is in the middle of another power struggle by the Wayne County Road Commission to take over Willow Run and turn it into a noise factory of decibels beyond human endurance.

The noise, loaded and overloaded four prop planes cannot gain altitude with the load and low octane gas they use so they are barely getting over the chimneys and tree tops of Belleville.

SINCE MARCH 1973 the carriers at Willow Run have increased three times and by 1975 it is estimated they will increase another four times.

Unless Belleville homeowners get together now and start stopping the power the Wayne County Road Commissioners think it has, the people might as well move out of the area because they will not be able to sleep at night nor use their yards in the day time.

For more than a year the planes have been awakening hundreds of people in the night so that it was impossible to sleep. The only thing that softened the blow was lack of fuel or we would have 24-hour noise.

The users of the carrier service are automobile plants. Letters should be sent to top management asking them not to use the carriers because of the noise.

THE SKY ABOVE Belleville is as much the homeowners as it is the carriers of air freight, and the disregard of people has to stop.

Letters to Lansing and Washington should voice the opinions of homeowners about the noise before it gets to the point of no return.

Two airports so close together is a mistake for those of us living in the area getting the noise from both airports.

As we see it

Public wants ceiling on spending in state

Taxpayer groups desperately are rounding up petition signatures at the 11th hour to rein in state government spending to 8.3 per cent of personal income in Michigan. Their deadline to file 265,839 signatures is July 8.

The growing public sentiment that political and governmental restraints are necessary is the sadder commentary on what has come to be a kind of institutionalized irresponsibility.

With that tawdry picture in mind, Taxpayers United — a loose coalition of taxpayer groups in the state — are proposing new sections for the state constitution providing:

— A restriction on tax collections at the state level to 8.3 per cent of total personal income in Michigan. Present spending levels could rise $135 million next year if voters approve the amendments Nov. 5.

— The limitation could be exceeded only if the governor declared an emergency for a maximum of 12 months, stated how the money would be raised, and got approval of two-thirds of both the House and Senate.

— State money going to local governments would not be reduced and any state requirement for new or expanded local services would be financed from state funds under the 8.3 per cent ceiling.

— Local governments would be prohibited from raising taxes without approval of the taxpayers.

— The present ban on deficit spending at the state level would be retained.

The campaign group says state government spent a million dollars every seven hours and 33 minutes in 1960 and now spends that much every 97 minutes.

The only certainty is that the public feels a spending ceiling is needed and that the time is now.

Audience enjoying the show

The audience was enthralled recently at Merriman Elementary School in Romulus as members of the student body presented a number of songs.

Among the performances that kept the audience happy were "Free to Be You and Me," "Boy Meets Girl," "When We Grow Up," "Don't Dress Your Cat in an Apron," "Helping" and "Why Can't You Be More Like Me." — Enterprise Roman photos.

WITH A LITTLE HELP — The performers in a recent presentation at Merriman Elementary School had Shirley Germaine, the school's music teacher, to thank for making their program a success. Four students who were members of the chorus, Muriel Cleveland, Cynthia Hale, Wendy Cutcher and Cynthia Jurczynski, helped with the success of the program as they sang a number of songs. — Enterprise-Roman photo.

A big insurance company doesn't have to act like a big insurance company.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

HAROLD REDISKE, JR. - DIRECTOR

Our forefathers fought for and won independence because they deserved it. The words of Joseph deMaistre, French statesman and philosopher of the 17th Century, should ring a bell for us: "Every nation has the government it deserves." Are his words as meaningful now, 50 years from now, 100 years hence? Before we hurriedly say, "Yes," lets consider another quote.

"A democracy cannot exist as a permanent form of government. It can exist only until the voters discover that they can vote themselves largest out of the public treasury. From that moment on, the majority always votes for the candidate promising the most benefits from the public treasury, with the result that democracy always collapses over a loose fiscal policy, always to be followed by a dictatorship." ... Professor Alexander Fraser Tytler of the University of Edinburgh made that statement more than two hundred years ago when explaining a reason for the fall of the Athenian republic. The Athenians were the best educated people in their time but became servants of their victors.

On July 4th, we might ask ourselves, "What sort of independence days are we bequeathing to our children and our children's children?" It can be a shuddering question. We should not shrug it off.

Sliwa-Szyndlar

West Coast trip follows recent vows

The newly wed John Sliwa are making their home at 385 Rustic Lane, Belleville, since their return from a week-long honeymoon to San Francisco and Los Angeles, Calif.

Dawn Szyndlar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Szyndlar of 13969 Wahrman Rd., Romulus, became Mrs. Sliwa in a spring ceremony at St. John's Lutheran Church in Taylor. The Rev. Albert Firchau presided at the double ring rite at 6:30 in the evening before some 300 assembled guests.

Mrs. John Schafer, soloist for the occasion, sang "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee," "The Lord's Prayer" and "We've Only Just Begun."

WHITE GLADIOLAS, stock and pom pom mums graced the altar as the bride approached with her father. For her wedding day she chose a floor-length creation of candlelight lutesong with the bodice designed in embroidered lace. Matching lace accented the long, sheer sleeves and the detachable chapel train as well as the appliques which adorned the full skirt.

Her lace-bordered illusion veil was caught to a mantilla headpiece and her bridal bouquet was comprised of phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis and ivy in a cascade design.

Two tones of blue were selected for the bridal coterie with the honor attendant, Janet Ries of Romulus, wearing a shade lighter than the four bridesmaids; Vicki Szyndlar of Romulus, sister of the bride; Brenda Sell of Taylor; Gertrude Szyndlar of Romulus, her sister-in-law, and Peggy Getzen of Sarasota, Fla.

Identically styled, their empire-mode gowns of rose print chiffon over taffeta featured cutaway shoulders topped by long-sleeved boleros. White daisies complimented their blue ribbon headpieces with matching flowers and blue carnations making up their bouquets.

BEST MAN was Stanley Samsel of Livonia. Ushers were Ron Bukis, Mike Hampton and the bridegroom's brother, Richard Sliwa, all of Belleville, and a cousin Gary Rodes of Lansing.

At the reception, which followed in the Romulus U.A.W. Hall, the bride's mother greeted guests in a mint green crepe formal gown worn with a companion lace coat and white accessories. Turquoise crepe in a floor-length style was chosen by Mrs. Sliwa, the bridegroom's mother, who also wore white accessories with her dress. Both were presented with gardenia corsages.

A Romulus High School graduate, the bride attended Rauder Fashion College in Miami, Fla. and is currently employed by the J. L. Hudson Co. at Southland. Her husband is employed by Republic Die and Tool of Belleville.

The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sliwa Sr. of 50400 Arkona Rd., Belleville, played host at the rehearsal dinner which was held at Symak's Restaurant in Southgate.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM R. KELLNER JR.

Kellner-Dziobak vows repeated in Sheridan

The Sheridan Congregational Church in Sheridan, Mich. was chosen by Deborah Dziobak and William R. Kellner Jr. for their recent spring wedding. The newlyweds, who motored to the Upper Peninsula for a four-day honeymoon at a private lodge, are now living in E. Lansing.

The Rev. Robert Evans of Decatur, Ill., grandfather of the bridegroom, conducted the June 8 ceremony at 2 p.m. The bride's brother, Timothy Dziobak, was at the organ to play traditional wedding selections.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Dziobak of 34910 Pennsylvania, Romulus, and Mr. and Mrs. William Kellner of Sheridan are parents of the young couple.

ESCORTED UP the aisle by her father, the bride appeared in a white silk organza gown designed with a ruffled illusion bodice, high neckline and long, full sleeves. A small ruffled train added back interest to the gown which was complimented by a matching picture hat and colonial bouquet of yellow and white tea roses.

A bouquet of yellow daisies distinguished the maid of honor, Barbara Gibas, who donned a yellow gown and matching picture hat. Marcia Gibas and Mrs. Elaine Antonicola were also in yellow but with contrasting white daisy bouquets.

The bridegroom asked his friend from Michigan State University, Blake Krueger of Kalamazoo, to serve as best man. Groomsmen, also MSU friends, were Mike Kamps of St. Louis, Mo. and Dave Hewitt of E. Lansing.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Dziobak donned a pale blue floor-length gown worn with a matching jacket. The bridegroom's mother chose to wear a pale green formal ensemble. They were at the City Club of Greenville, Mich. to greet the 90 relatives and friends who attended the 4 p.m. dinner reception.

AMONG THOSE

congratulating the young couple were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dudick of Romulus, and her uncles and aunts, Mr. and Mrs. John Dudick of Belleville and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dziedzic and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dziobek of Romulus.

A 1972 Romulus High School graduate, the new Mrs. Kellner has completed two years at Michigan State University where her husband is in his senior year. He is a graduate of Greenville High School.

Recent graduates honored

Among the many area graduates to be honored at parties following their schools' commencement exercises were Karen Warfield of Romulus and Susan Kay Knox of Belleville.

Karen, who received her diploma from Romulus High June 20, had over 150 relatives and friends at the buffet dinner planned by her parents, the Alonzo Warfields of Merriman Road. Members of the Wayne Church of Christ, where the Warfields are members, as well as guests from Allen Park, Detroit, Flint, Garden City, Wayne, New Boston, Romulus and the Down River area were on hand to greet Karen.

Karen, who plans to make nursing her career, played the flute in the school band and was a member of the choir and Future Homemakers Club. She also chalked up a perfect attendance record for the past 10 years of school.

MR. AND MRS. Charles Knox entertained at their Lauren Court home in Belleville the Sunday after Belleville High's commencement at Bowen Field House.

Their daughter, Susan, was congratulated by over 50 guests from Prescott, Farmington, Detroit, Garden City, Ypsilanti, Romulus and Belleville, who enjoyed dinner and socializing.

Father's Day is memorable

Baby news in the area this week includes the "Father's Day Special" which Cheryl and Steve Miller of 190 Russell St., Ypsilanti, are enjoying these early summer days.

Arriving just in time to let his dad celebrate "his big day" was Steven David Miller who put in his appearance June 16 at Women's Hospital in Ann Arbor. The 5 lb., 10 oz. newcomer is the son of the former Cheryl Wilson, a Belleville High graduate.

The proud grandparents are Mrs. Ruth Wilson of Belleville and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Miller of Quinwood, W. Va.

She adds a feminine touch

Adding a feminine touch to the Earl Mullins family out at 38047 Wabash in Romulus is little Michelle Anne who made her debut June 15 at Wayne County General Hospital.

The 6 lb., 14 oz. baby was welcomed home by three big brothers: Earl Jr., 14, Jeffrey, 10, and Scott, 8.

The infant's father is a welder at Kelsey Hayes Co. in Romulus.

Belleville girls top honor list

Two area girls are among the 895 students including 82 from Michigan at Bob Jones University in Greenville, S.C., who earned a spot on the dean's list.

They are Marcella Overby, and Sheila Anne Rice.

Miss Overby, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Overby of 44429 Tyler Rd., Belleville, is a senior majoring in education.

Miss Rice, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn A. Rice of 43900 Crowley St., Belleville, is a freshman majoring in education.

To add to the dean's list, the two students had to earn at least a "B" average during their last semester of study.

To assume regent duties

Huron ed board member will resign position

A Huron Board of Education member for 10 years—two of them as president—will resign his post Saturday to devote more time to his new duties as a regent of Eastern Michigan University (EMU).

Carl T. Rush, 49, who lives at 29620 King Rd., Romulus, cited his desire to "spend my time on education at the university" and "a number of other activities" he is involved in as reasons for his leaving the Huron school board. He recently was appointed to Eastern's board of regents.

"I am looking forward to the many new challenges I will no doubt come up against at EMU, and I feel my experience at Huron will be a big help in those duties, because there is a similarity in the two types of governing boards," he said.

A father of three Rush has served as the board's treasurer for the past three years and was president for two years prior to that. He served on the Huron Township Planning Commission for nine years, his final year as chairman, before being elected to the school board.

Rush's resignation does not take effect on the standard July 1 date (fiscal year start) because he said he wanted to allow the board time to have its new officer selections on Saturday.

Rush said he is leaving the school district proudly.

"I think the district is in the best condition it's been in since I've been on the board," he added.

Township buys land for fire hall expansion

A key obstacle blocking the proposed expansion of two fire halls in Huron Township has been removed with the purchase of land necessary for the new construction.

Township Clerk Mary Lou Carey said Huron has purchased a plot of land next to a fire hall on Middlebelt Road south of Sibley and hopes to begin expansion of the fire station next fall.

One of the township's other two fire halls also will be expanded in size. Mrs. Carey said bids would be let in early October on the building.

THE ACQUISITION of the land adjacent to the station on Middlebelt was the primary hindering force in stalling the building plans, she said.

"The problem has been in getting the property, which Huron has been trying to do for several years," she said. "Now things are just beginning to come to a head. The township is drawing up plans for the expansion and hope to be able to build a new fire station on Huron River Drive in New Boston."

Mrs. Carey said no cost figure has been released for the building projects yet.

She added that the fire hall expansion falls in line with other community development.

"HURON IS beginning to get some development in the township; there's another apartment project hoped for and a new mobile home park was built on Inkster Road," she said. "People are starting to look positively at development here. I guess Huron is more or less planning for the future."

She said that much of the proposed development and expansion within the township is attributable to a bigger chunk of federal revenue sharing funds granted Huron for the next fiscal year.

"Huron Township has been shortchanged in regard to federal revenue sharing funds in the past," she added. "Huron received $31,000 last year and have more than a quarter of a million ($252,600) coming in for the 1974-75 fiscal year."

"It will go for the development of the community, which has been at a standstill for a long time. Now, at last, Huron has funds available."

New Boston girl to take training

A New Boston girl is one of 10 Michigan State University (MSU) students participating in a training program in field archaeology in the Lansing area.

She is Bonnie Fuller, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren F. Fuller of 20885 Vining Rd., New Boston.

Miss Fuller is an MSU freshman majoring in fisheries and wildlife, and is a 1973 graduate of Huron High School.

Dr. Joseph L. Charkoff, assistant professor anthropology at MSU, will direct the students at a prehistoric Indiansite on the Grand River on the south side of Lansing. Charkoff and his crew will seek evidence of more prehistoric Indian structures and the kinds of indoor and outdoor activities, as well as food remains, pottery and stone tools, to determine whether the Indians were engaged in hunting or fishing.

Students give police life-saving equipment

The Belleville Police Department has a new resuscitator for use in city police cars, thanks to the students of Belleville's South Junior High School.

Three officers of the junior high school's student council presented the city with a mouth-to-mouth respiration device, after pupils raised $45 to purchase the equipment. Student Council President Dan Pavelka said the students decided to purchase the mouth-to-mouth hand-operated respiration device for the police department after a popular assistant principal suffered a fatal heart attack in the school last December.

Police Chief Clayton (Mickie) McLaughlin said the city's two patrol scout cars are equipped with oxygen tanks for emergencies, but the department had only one resuscitator prior to the presentation by the students.

Hearing, speech center offers summer programs

THE CENTER has been developing this specialized language training program for the past year. Parents, teachers, or doctors wishing to enroll children in the program must be scheduled for an evaluation as soon as possible.

Classes in the language of signs also will be offered at the Detroit Hearing and Speech Center on an accelerated schedule. Classes for beginners will start July 15 and continue through July 24.

Intermediate classes will be held July 29 - Aug. 7, and advanced classes are scheduled for Aug. 12-21.

All classes will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. No classes will be scheduled on Saturdays and Sundays.

SIGN LANGUAGE classes are under the supervision of the center's consultant with deaf, Robert M. Ingram, a hearing son of deaf parents. He holds the Comprehensive Interpreting Skills Certificate from the Registry of Interpreters for the Deaf.

Individuals interested in these programs may contact the Detroit Hearing and Speech Center at 341-1353.

Because of high interest rates

Residents repair homes rather than move

Uncertainty over the state of the nation's economy coupled with shortages linked to the energy crisis have many homeowners rummaging through their tool boxes rather than shopping around for new housing.

are expected to sag as low as 1.6 million from the record 2.38 million in 1972 and 2.05 million last year, the Wall Street Journal reports. Turned off by high interest rates and the scarcity of mortgage money, millions of homeowners are opting for remodeling or modernization of their present homes. One popular and vital remodeling project involves reroofing. Millions of new houses have been built in the nearly three decades since the end of World War II. Since the life expectancy of an average roof with standard shingles is about 15 years, many of the roofs of those homes are in need of a facelift.

In 1973 alone, according to the Bureau of Building Marketing Research, more than 2.7 million homeowners had new roofs put on at a cost of over $1.3 billion. The Bureau reports that 33 percent of the reroofing projects were done by do-it-yourselfers, 58 percent by professional contractors and about 9 percent by do-it-yourselfers aided by professionals.

These statistics indicate the desirability of having a major job like reroofing handled by an expert. While a handyman can save money by making small repairs himself, the application of roofing requires the know how of a qualified roofer. Unless you are highly skilled, the Asphalt Roofing Manufacturers Association warns, "attempting to do the work yourself may result in an inferior and perhaps costly application job, and, more seriously, in possible injury."

What are the symptoms of a roof suffering from old age? Look for cracked, blistered, buckled or broken shingles. Check the downspouts after a heavy rain for signs of unusually excessive granule loss. Inspect the attic with a flashlight for signs of leaks. But don't climb up on the roof for an on-site inspection. It's dangerous and could damage the roof. Examine it from the ground using field glasses.

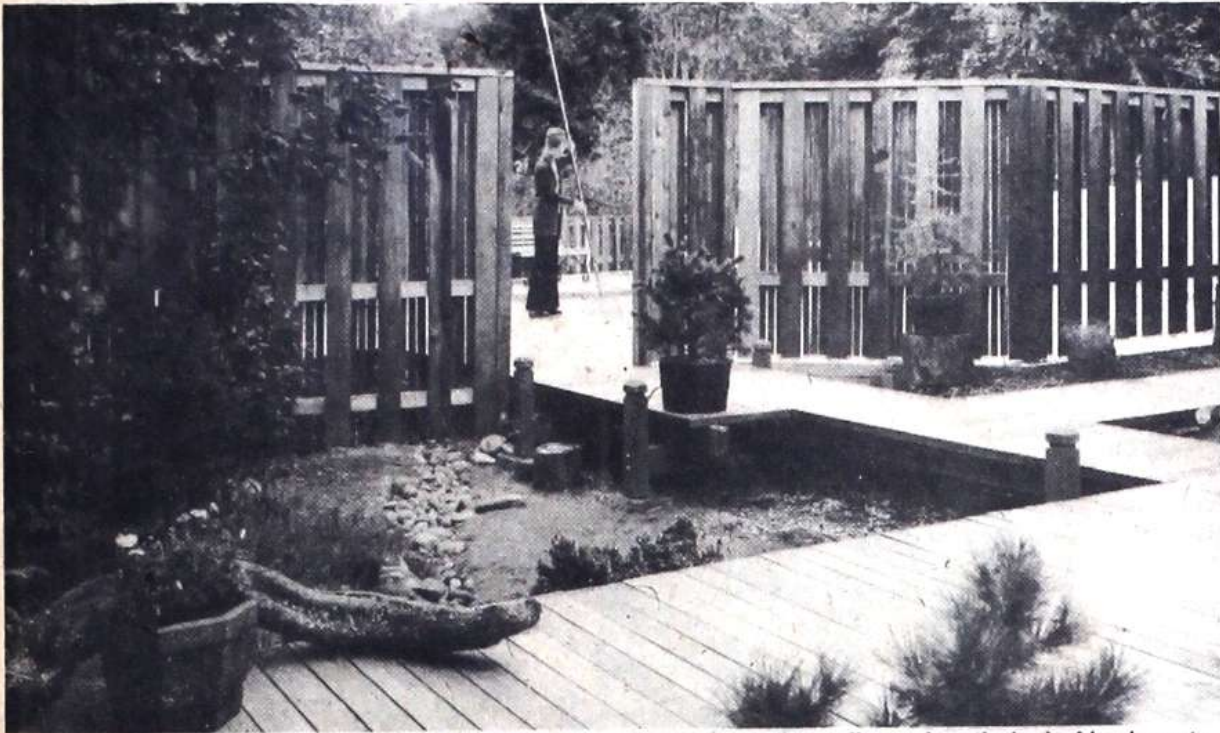

Before going ahead with reroofing, call in a professional roofer to conduct an on-the-roof inspection. While he's there, ask him for an estimate on what the reroofing job will cost. It will provide you with a basic price for some comparison shopping. Generally, it's a good idea to get several estimates, making sure the contractors are bidding on the same quality materials and workmanship. Asphalt shingles are the most popular roofing material and are used on more than 80 percent of U.S. homes.

Home and garden

ENTERTAINING AREA — Wood slat patios and walkways leading around the front and back of homes add a "touch of class" to home design and offer an area to entertain visitors in cool summer night time weather. In this scheme, the homeowner built a walkway along the back of her home to attach the home to the swimming pool and a garage. Other plans include building a wooden walkway along the front of the home as an outdoor entertaining area.

Porch deck is place to relax

In years past, a porch was a social area, a place to sit and chat with neighbors when they walked by, or where a boy and girl could sit and swing, romantically.

Porch swings are scarce these days, but the idea of a place to relax with family or friends after a busy day offers strong inducement for adding some kind of outdoor living area.

A porch deck leading to the front door and extending across part of the house, front or rear offers a friendly welcome as well as a place to stretch out and entertain drop-in company.

THERE ARE many variations of porches, both in size and style. A porch deck can be enclosed with a baffle screen for privacy or to blunt strong breezes.

Or it can be covered with a sunscreen or trellis to gain partial shade. If there is a large tree providing shade, the deck can be built around it, or landscaping can be incorporated in the plan.

One family expanded a small entry with a deck of 2-inch by 4-inch western wood, improving the access to the yard. Extending the deck across the house provided a walkway to the carport and a place to sit in the afternoon sun.

The main deck is reached by two wide steps leading up from the sidewalk. Steps and deck are constructed of 2-inch by 4-inch western wood on edge, and the deck is supported on 4-inch by 4-inch and 4-inch by 6-inch beams of Douglas fir.

ANOTHER STEP leads up to a small decked area in the recessed entry. Two long planter boxes under the window help soften the lines of the deck, and other potted plants help mark the edges in the absence of a railing.

For front porch decks that are close to the street, a screen of slightly spaced western wood boards or a hedge of tall shrubs will block the view.

Home remodeling could harm plants

Do-it-yourselfers who can't move, but want a new place to live can build one through remodeling. But they should be careful when embarking on a remodeling job to take care of those living things surrounding their homes which add to their livability.

Mature trees and shrubs add much beauty to a home. If a resident will be building this summer he should plan to save some trees and shrubs from construction damage and removal, says Joe Cox, Michigan State University extension landscape architect.

Cox advises that such specifications be put in the building contract. His suggestions can help a resident protect valuable trees and shrubs.

ERECT A BOXED crate structure about 10-feet square around trees to prevent construction materials from being stored too close, Cox advises.

Wrap 1-inch boards of varying widths around the tree trunk and hold them in place with wire, he said. This will prevent machinery from damaging the bark.

He added that a snow fence, supported by steel posts can be used to screen off groups of smaller trees and shrubs.

If fill is needed after a project, Cox advises homeowners to use a good grade of topsoil, reducing its depth as it approaches the planting area.

CHOOSE ONLY loamy fill soil that has a high content of organic matter, he said.

If residents are filling in a sloped area, they should check erosion by using mulches, sod, stakes or temporary retainers until the soil is firmly settled and covered with a permanent lawn, Cox said.

Residents are advised to install a series of spokelike tile lines at the base of the tree or shrub before adding fill over eight-inches deep. This will enable the plant to "breathe," Cox said a circular retaining wall also will enable the plant to "breathe" by holding the fill away from the base of the trunk.

A plant should not be elevated more than two feet, he said. If it is absolutely necessary, build a retaining wall to hold the soil around the plant roots.

If possible, let the tree remain on a gently sloping mound Cox said. Ground covers can be planted on mound slopes that would be difficult to mow.

Patterns can match home style

Eight or more different patterns of lumber siding are produced today, so that any style on an existing home can be matched.

Bevel, drop and channel rustic patterns are the most popular siding styles, but flush-joint, tongue-and-groove boards have won favor for a contemporary look, reports the Western Wood Products Assn.

Rough-sawn surfaces have gained in recent years, because they're suited to staining, which usually requires less maintenance.

Legislature on verge of shakeup

By BOB BERG
Lansing Bureau Chief

Even the proverbial veteran observers are going to need a scorecard next January to figure out who's who in the legislature.

Both Houses are on the verge of major shakeups in membership which will take months to get new lines of power and communication straightened out.

In the House, at least 20 of the current members will not be back in January. In the Senate, at least six of the current members won't be back. Two more members - Anthony Stamm and Michael O'Brien - died this year and will be replaced by new members.

WHEN THE NORMAL primary and general election upsets of incumbents occur, there could be as much as a 30 or 40 per cent turnover, especially if voter dissatisfaction with incumbents is as deep as some people suspect.

The decision not to run for reelection doesn't by any means indicate a retirement from politics, however. Twelve of the House members are running for the state Senate and several are given good chances of knocking off incumbent senators, an event which would raise the turnover rate in the upper chamber sharply.

Five House members definitely will challenge incumbents either in the August primary or the November general election.

In the primary, Flint Rep. Dale Kildee is taking on Sen. Garland Lane in the Democratic primary while St. Clair Shores Rep. Joe Snyder is taking on James Gray in another primary.

THE THIRD CHALLENGE is by Rep. Alma Stallworth of Detroit against Sen. Jack Faxon, also in the Democratic primary.

In November, Democratic Reps. John Otterbacher of Grand Rapids and Earl

Nelson of Lansing are given good chances of taking seats away from Republican Sens. Milton Zaagman of Grand Rapids and Phil Pittenger of Lansing, respectively.

Redistricting has threatened the seat of Republican Sen. Gordon Rockwell of Mount Morris. And Republican Sen. Oscar Bouwsma of Muskegon also is in trouble, according to party people from his district.

Since Democrats are seen as assured of control of the Senate next January, the upper chamber is more attractive to House members from the Democratic Party than in the past.

TWO LEGISLATORS, Republican Sen. William Ballenger of Williamston and Democratic Rep. William Brodhead of Detroit, are running for Congress.

State Rep. James Damman (R-Troy), will be shooting for bigger things as Gov. William G. Milliken's running mate

CONVENTION VISITORS—While attending a convention in Lansing for the National Association of Housing and Re-Development, Carol Husband, Christine Anderson, Mary Carter and Theresa Washington (all of Romulus) visited

Michigan State Rep. Edward E. Mahalak at his office in the state Capitol. Mahalak invited the women onto the floor of the House chambers during session.

At fire-side ceremony

Scouts from St. Anthony's receive awards, promotions

The members of Cub Scout Pack No. 793 of St. Anthony's Catholic Church in Belleville have received awards for their work in scouting.

During a recent picnic in the Lower Huron Metro Park eleven scouts were accepted into the Webelos in a fire-side ceremony.

They were Tim Linderman,

Mike McNally, Ken Duda, Dennis Stamper, Larry Fleeman, Doug Traskos, Sean Brehmer, Jamie Rosinski, Randy Pyeiffer, Walter Dunayczan and Joe Stypelkoski.

Following the ceremonies, other Scouts in the pack received awards.

Todd Brehmer earned his forester and geologist badge. Mike McNally and Dennis Stamper earned their silver arrows.

George Harris earned a Bobcat badge.

Denmother Christ Swinson was the recipient of the "Arrow of the Light" pin for her work in scouting. The award is the highest conferred on a parent in scouting.

Charlene McNally received a plaque for nine years of service to the troop while Don Swinson and Dan Brehmer were given thanks for their work in the pack.

Scheduled for this summer are a policeman's and firemen's field day trip and a Webelos campout.

In the armed services

Navy Air Controlman Lowell D. Spartz, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Bruns of 48145 Wear Rd., Belleville, has reported to the North Island Naval Air Station for duty. The station is located in San Diego, California.

Township man dies in flames

A 23-year-old Sumpter Township man died when flames destroyed his mobile home in the township's Rawsonville Woods trailer park.

John R. Mount of 461 Hampshire Ct., was found lying face-down in the living room of his trailer when firemen arrived to put out the June 23 blaze. Wayne County Sheriff's Department officers said Mount died of smoke inhalation.

A sheriff's department investigation of the blaze showed that the fire began in the trailer's furnace compartment and spread quickly to the bedroom and living room where Mount apparently was sleeping, said Sheriff's Department Sgt. Kenneth Young.

The intense flammability of construction materials in the trailer probably contributed to Mount's death, Sumpter Fire Chief Joseph Mitchell told sheriff's department officers. Although flames never touched the victim, he died instantly.

Airman Terry L. Garnett, the son of Mrs. Stella Kennedy of 36723 Goddard Road, Romulus, has graduated at Chanute Air Force Base, Ill., from the U.S. Air Force aircraft mechanic course conducted by the Air Training Command.

Garnett, who learned to maintain and service multi-engine jet aircraft, is being assigned to Kincheloe Air Force Base, for duty with a unit of the Strategic Air Command.

Garnett attended Western North High School.

They learn about mythology;

Myth of interest to students

If you had visited the Romulus Public Library this spring, you may have heard of an ugly monster who had snakes growing out its head.

It is nothing to worry about, though, because the monster is a part of an English class on mythology which has proved to be a highly successful addition to the Romulus adult education program.

Pattie Kancierz, instructor, met weekly with her class of 17 students who ranged in age from 18 to 55. Ms Kancierz said she got the idea for the course from Carolyn Kaiser, a high school English teacher.

"WHEN I FIRST presented the idea to Bill Smith, community school director in Romulus, we were both a little doubtful if the class would be popular," she added. "But response from the community was so good, we ran short of books!"

The purpose of the class is to show how myths get started and why people believe in them. Ms Kancierz feels Romulus is a great place to teach the class because the city itself gets its name from a famous Roman myth — the story of Romulus and Remus, twin brothers who founded the City of Rome.

The founder of the City of Romulus must have known and enjoyed Roman mythology, Ms Kancierz said.

Traces of mythology are found in all aspects of our culture, she added. Names of mythological heroes such as Apollo, Mars, Atlas and others are found on names of cars, moon flights, rockets and tires.

A STUDENT explained her interest in the class by saying: "When you are able to learn and understand traces of the past, then the present becomes much more interesting."

Mythology again will be offered during the fall semester. Adults who are interested in attending this or other free adult education classes are requested to call Bill Smith or Cheryl Ward at the Romulus Board of Education at 941-1600.

Young Romulus coach has old idea

At 24, Tom Baldwin is the youngest head football coach in the area.

And the newly-appointed Romulus High mentor confesses that he has one of the oldest coaching dreams, that is, to win.

"I am confident that people can look for a much improved football program at Romulus this season," said Baldwin, a former Ferris State end who prepped at Mount Morris, just north of Flint.

"We have the people here to turn this thing around."

meager staff of four assistant coaches will be trying to turn around a dismal 1-7 won-lost record of a year ago.

But, Baldwin admits, he has some problems, namely, the lack of coaching personnel.

"WE ARE PRESENTLY faced with a situation where four assistant coaches must handle three football teams - the varsity, the junior varsity and the ninth grade. And this is almost an impossible situation."

"Last year 42 kids played reserve football and we had only one coach handling that squad.

"In order to run a good program we must have the coaches," he said.

Baldwin pointed out that he has recommended to the board that two more assistant coaches be hired.

AMONG THOSE HE has retained from ex-coach Jim Stallings's staff are Dan Campbell, Dennis Stoh and Fred Coleman. Baldwin last year served as Stallings' offensive coordinator.

some changes in strategy. Baldwin is preparing to run a different type of offense, and basically a different brand of defense. He didn't want to elaborate now.

What will be a welcomed change is the schedule.

Romulus, an independent, will face three Catholic League powers this season. The Eagles will open up with Royal Oak Shrine (Sept. 14) and also will meet Pontiac Catholic Central and Detroit Austin.

"I FEEL this will help our program tremendously," said Baldwin. "The Catholic Leagues are noted for their excellent caliber of teams."

The absence of a league championship will be a handicap again, Baldwin offered.

"It is very difficult, I feel, for a kid or a team to set goals for themselves when you're not playing for a league championship or shooting for all-league."

"For us, then, it comes down to this - personal pride. And I really feel we have it, and a nucleus of fine ball players coming back to make this a successful season."

Romulus has been looking for a league since the disbandment of the Twin Valley Conference three years ago. The school has unsuccessfully petitioned the Northwest Suburban and a newly aligned group which included Dearborn Heights, Ann Arbor, Woodhaven, Oak Park and Livonia, Clarenville.

"I FEEL ONE of the major handicaps our team had last year was it didn't have a league title to play for," added Baldwin.

Tom and his wife, Debbie, are expecting their first child.

Another Aaron story

By TOM MOORADIAN

Few of us will remember or recall what happened on April 8, 1974.

To some it was just another day, for others it was a day for witnessing history.

And in the latter category falls an incident witnessed by Herbert Aaron and his family. April 8th was a day he will never forget.

"There were tears in Hank's eyes," related the slim, proud-looking Herbert Aaron, "and, afterwards, he told me that it was because the entire family was there."

"My wife said he was sure Hank was going to do it. And I kept asking her how could she be so sure. And she just answered, 'I'm sure, that's all.'"

APRIL 8TH, of course, was the day that Hank Aaron, the Atlanta Braves' slugger, hammered a fourth inning pitch with one aboard into the bleachers for his 715th career homer, breaking immortal Babe Ruth's record.

Herbert Aaron, Hank's father, was in town recently to celebrate his brother, William's, "big day." William, the owner of Fish Market, on Inkster Rd., was commemorating his first anniversary in business.

"When he hit Downing's (Los Angeles) pitch, I lost my hat and glasses in the great confusion that followed," related the senior Aaron, "but my wife got out of the box and the next thing I knew she was on the field hugging and crying over her boy."

"It was really something."

Ironically, the senior Aaron says that No. 715 which made Hank the new "Sultan of the Swat" wasn't his biggest thrill.

"When Henry hit that home run off the left field fence in the 1957 series between Milwaukee and the Cardinals, I'll never forget it. That was something else."

That four-bagger gave Milwaukee the pennant.

A RETIRED WORKER who spent 29-years with the Alabama Drydock and Shipbuilders, Herbert Aaron said that his wife "gets the credit for raising such a fine family."

"I know that times are changing and it isn't like it was when I was young, but I think young folks today feel that you can get on easy street without working."

"They're wrong. To do something with your life that you can be proud about - to help one another - that's what it's all about."

"I have worked 29 years - and hard - to support my family."

The senior Aaron said he has had a lot of "skull sessions" with Hank over the years and one thing that stands out is, "That Henry's a professional. No manager can ever say Henry didn't follow orders and cooperate."

"Henry learned to take orders, but the rest of it he did by himself. There is one thing in Hank's mind when he's at the plate: If you can throw it, I'm going to try to hit it, that's what he's thinking." Who was Hank's toughest pitcher?

"Well," says the older Aaron, "it had to be Don Drysdale (Los Angeles). It took him two years, but Hank finally figured him out. He got two home runs off of him in the series in Milwaukee."

The Aarons, whose home base is in Alabama, make frequent trips to Inkster to visit relatives.

Will Henry's record ever be broken?

"I don't think any of us will be around to see Hank's record fall. It took forty years for someone to break Ruth's record, didn't it?"

Forty years, huh? Let me see that will make me - oh, forget it.

Kathy Whitworth earned $82,864 on the 1973 Ladies PGA golf tour.

Odd Squad, 2001 keep Romulus records perfect in softball

While Odd Squad and 2001 continue to duel for first place in the East Division, over in the West Kid Power has taken command of first place in the Romulus Softball League. Both Odd Squad and 2001 have amassed 3-0 records and are heading for a showdown in that division.

Romulus to hold school for cagers

Basketball will be the name of the game for boys and girls who enroll in Romulus Recreation Department's sponsored summer program.

The recreation department will hold a six-week cage school from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. at the following schools - Cory Elementary, Beverly, Mt. Pleasant, Harrison, and Merriman.

There is no charge. THE SCHOOLS, for youngsters in grades three through eighth, will begin on Monday, July 8. There will be buses available for those who wish to attend the Cory Elementary classes. The youngsters can board them from Romulus, Cory, Hayti and Gordiner.

The buses also will return the youngsters to their respective schools. The cage school will be held from 9 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. at Cory Elementary, while on Monday, Wednesday and Friday while at Belleville from noon until 3 p.m. on the same days.

Mt. Pleasant will host the young cagers from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m. Tuesday and Thursday; 11:15 to 1:30 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday at Harrison and 1:45 to 3 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday at Merriman School.

There will also be a cage clinic at Romulus High School for players who are in ninth through 12 grades.

Al Wilkerson, coordinator of the program, said that youngsters who have perfect attendance records at the cage school will be presented with T-shirts.

The Thumpers wasted a triple by Donna Ayers and doubles by Carol Williams and Cherry Chmora and three hits by Sue Lyczak, Diane Jaskowski and Marie Bradley in a 28-12 loss to 2001.

Nancy Gent, Sharon Howie, Pat Maciejewski and Carol Casmer each homered for the winners while Shelly Much hammered a triple and LeAnn Silvey and Pat McLean doubled for the winners.

ODD SQUAD crushed the Bulls 18-3 to keep pace with 2001. Debbie Wilcox hammered four hits, including a home run to pace the winners. Teammates Marlene Farago and Pat Dick each had three hits.

Leading hitter for the losers was Donna Zygal who collected three safeties.

Nancy Verduco's three home runs, and round trippers by Margot Ayers, Pat Suski and Faye Lombardi powered the Electric Warriors past the Aurline Bombers.

The Bottoms-Up upended their arch-rivals, the Red Hots, 16-2 as Colleen Durhan, Cindy Summers and Diana Williams saw their efforts wasted

Champs crowned

Despite threatening skies, Romulus managed to stage its inaugural bike marathon Sunday and Jerry Diepenhorst beat a field of 20 to the finish line to earn the first title.

Diepenhorst covered the 25-mile course in a time of 1 hour, 25 minutes, five minutes ahead of runnerup Keith Kraushaar who was clocked in 1:30.

Trailing in third was Mike Morgan, who carded a 1:32 while a bike tandem, driven by Tom Kraushaar and Marvin Commerford, finished fourth (1:35).

OFFICIALS allowed the two drivers on the bike because Commerford is blind.

Finishing fifth was Bernard Couch, who covered the rain-washed course in 1:37.

Cyclists who finished in the top five sports were awarded trophies by the sponsors of the meet, the Romulus Jaycees and the Romulus Parks and Recreation Department.

Two girls also made up the field but only one, 16-year-old Lee Ann Silvey managed to finish the 25-mile course.

Rains earlier in the day cancelled the 25-mile marathon foot race.

"It was an excellent meet," said Bob Martin, one of the officials. "We had no injuries and everything came off smoothly. However, it was unfortunate that we had to cancel the foot race."

Legislator's bill will protect state owners of condominiums

A local legislator has introduced a proposal in the Michigan State Senate which would allow condominium owners to withhold funds they pay for grounds maintenance if those maintenance functions aren't performed.

State Sen. William Faust

(D-13th District) said that some condominium owners are forced to continue paying a fee to maintain common areas in a development even if those areas are neglected to the point of ruin.

"If a condominium owner is paying a fee for snow removal, he or she should have a right to refuse payment if the snow is not removed," Faust said.

"If burned out light bulbs aren't replaced, or if the paint in the clubhouse is peeling, there is no reason why a condominium owner should be forced to continue paying for maintenance."

State law permits the bylaws of a condominium development to be changed by a vote of the owners.

Faust said his bill would permit such bylaws to give condominium owners the right to withhold contributions for maintenance of common areas if they are not kept in reasonable repair.

"For those persons who are tired of apartment living, lack the time or energy to keep the grass mowed, or simply enjoy the special advantages offered by a condominium project, condominiums often represent a perfect solution," Faust said. "Because of the relative newness of condominiums, however, owners are only now beginning to discover that they have unique problems."

"The owners are discovering, for example, that existing laws which protect tenants and the owners of single family residences are insufficient to meet the needs of condominium owners."

"I am hopeful that the legislation I have introduced will give condominium owners some of the special protection they need."

NOTICE OF ADOPTION OF ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION OF THE CANTON-VAN BUREN WATER AND SEWAGE DISPOSAL AUTHORITY

TO: ALL OF THE RESIDENTS AND TAXPAYERS OF THE TOWNSHIPS OF CANTON AND VAN BUREN
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Township Board of the Township of Canton and the Township Board of the Township of Van Buren have each adopted the following Articles of Incorporation of the Canton-Van Buren Water and Sewage Disposal Authority pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 233 of the Michigan Public Acts of 1955, as amended.

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION OF THE CANTON-VAN BUREN WATER AND SEWAGE DISPOSAL AUTHORITY

These Articles of Incorporation are adopted by the incorporating municipal corporations for the purpose of creating an authority under the provisions of Act No. 233, Michigan Public Acts of 1955, as amended (hereinafter sometimes referred to as the "enabling act").

ARTICLE I

The name of this Authority is "Canton-Van Buren Water and Sewage Disposal Authority". The registered office of the Authority will be located in the Township Hall of the Township of Canton, Wayne County, Michigan.

ARTICLE II

The incorporating municipal corporations creating this Authority are the Township of Canton and the Township of Van Buren, both in the County of Wayne, State of Michigan, which are hereby designated as the constituent municipalities.

ARTICLE III

The purpose of this Authority is to acquire, own, improve, enlarge, extend and operate a water system or sewage disposal system or any part thereof in accordance with the enabling act. The term "water system" as used in these Articles shall include all water mains, interceptors, laterals, water purification plants, pumping stations, wells, and all other plants, works, instrumentalities and properties used or useful in connection with the obtaining collection, treatment, purification and distribution of water. The term "sewage disposal system" as used in these Articles shall include all interceptor sewers, storm sewers, sanitary sewers, combined sanitary and storm sewers, sewage treatment plants, and all other plants, works, instrumentalities and properties used or useful in connection with the collection, treatment and/or disposal of sewage and/or industrial wastes.

ARTICLE IV

This Authority shall be a body corporate with power to sue or to be sued in any court of this state. It shall be comprised of the territory lying within the corporate boundaries of its constituent municipalities. It shall possess all of the powers granted by statutes now in effect or hereafter adopted or amended, and by these Articles, which are necessary to carry out the purposes of its incorporation, and those incident thereto. The enumeration of any powers herein or in the enabling act shall not be construed as a limitation upon its general powers unless the context shall clearly indicate otherwise. It shall have a corporate seal.

ARTICLE V

This Authority shall continue in existence perpetually or until dissolved by act of the parties or by law: Provided, however, that it shall be dissolved if such dissolution would or could operate as an impairment of the bonds or other contracts.

ARTICLE VI

The fiscal year of this Authority shall commence on the first day of January and end on the thirty-first day of December in each year.

ARTICLE VII

The governing body of this Authority shall be a board of Trustees, hereinafter referred to as the "Board", which shall consist of four trustees, two of whom shall be residents of the Township of Canton and be appointed by the Township Board of said township and two of whom shall be residents of the Township of Van Buren and be appointed by the Township Board of said township. Members of the first Board shall be so appointed within thirty days after these Articles become effective and their terms shall be staggered so that the two trustees from the township of Canton shall serve for terms expiring on June 30, in the years 1974, and 1976, respectively, and so that the two trustees from the Township of Van Buren shall serve for terms expiring on June 30 in the years 1975 and 1976 respectively. Succeeding trustees shall be so appointed on or before the fifteenth day of June of each year and shall serve for three-year terms beginning on the following July 1 and until their respective successors are appointed and qualified. Each trustee shall file his oath of office with the clerk of the constituent municipality from which he is appointed. Trustees shall serve without compensation but the Board may by majority vote of its total membership authorize payment of actual expenses incurred by any trustee in connection with the business of the Authority. The members of the first Board shall qualify by filing their oaths of office and shall meet for the purpose of organization within thirty days after their appointment and thereafter the Board shall meet for such purpose on the third Monday in July of each year at the time and place fixed for the holding of regular meetings. At each such organization meeting the Board shall select a Chairman and a Vice-Chairman, who shall be members of the Board, and a Secretary and a Treasurer who may but need not be members of the Board. The offices of Secretary and Treasurer may be combined and held by one person if so provided in the By-Laws. Such officers shall serve until the next annual organization meeting and until their respective successors shall be selected and qualified. Failure to hold meetings or appoint or select trustees or officers as herein provided shall not render invalid any action taken by the Board or its officers. No appointment of any trustee or election of any officer, and no action taken at any meeting, shall be invalid because it did not occur within or at the time specified in these Articles. Any member of the Board may be removed for cause at any time by majority vote of the legislative body which appointed him. Any officer of the Board may be removed at any time by majority vote of the total membership of the Board.

ARTICLE VIII

In the event of a vacancy on the Board, the legislative body of the constituent municipality which appointed the trustee whose position has become vacant shall fill the vacancy for the unexpired term. In the event of a vacancy in any office of the Board, such vacancy shall be filled by the Board for the unexpired term. In case of the temporary absence or disability of any officer, the Board may appoint some person temporarily to act in his stead except that in the event of the temporary absence or disability of the Chairman, the Vice-Chairman shall so act.

ARTICLE IX

Regular meetings of the Board shall be held at such time and place as shall be prescribed by resolution or in the By-Laws of the Board. Special meetings of the Board may be called by the Chairman or any three members thereof, by serving written notice of the time, place and purpose thereof, upon each member of the Board personally, or by leaving it at his place of residence, at least twenty-four hours prior to the time of such meeting, or by depositing the same in a United States Post Office or mail box within the limits of the Authority, at least seventy-two hours prior to the time of such meeting, enclosed in a sealed envelope properly addressed to him at his home or office address, with postage fully prepaid. Special meetings of the Board at which all members are present shall be deemed to be valid even though no written notice thereof may have been given as above provided. Any member of the Board may waive notice of any meeting either before or after the holding thereof and written consent to any action taken by the Board shall have the same effect as if the consenting member had been present and had voted in favor of such action. At least three members of the Board shall be required for a quorum. The Board shall act by motion, resolution or ordinance. For the passage of any resolution or ordinance providing for the issuance of bonds there shall be required the affirmative vote of at least three members of the Board. For all other actions, a majority vote of those present shall be sufficient for passage, unless otherwise provided herein or in the By-Laws. The Board shall have the right to adopt By-Laws and rules governing its procedure which are not in conflict with the terms of any statute or of these Articles. The Board shall keep a journal of its proceedings, which shall be signed by the Secretary. All votes shall be "Yeas" and "Nays", except that where the vote is unanimous, it shall only be necessary to so state. Each member shall be required to vote upon all matters unless he shall be disqualified therefrom. No member may vote upon any matter in which he has a personal interest. No trustee shall have any financial interest in any contract with the Authority.

ARTICLE X

The Chairman of the Board shall be the presiding officer thereof. In the absence or disability of the Chairman, the Vice-Chairman shall perform the duties of the Chairman. The Secretary shall be the recording officer of the Board. The Treasurer shall be custodian of the funds of the Authority and shall give to it a bond conditioned upon the faithful performance of the duties of his office. The cost of said bond shall be paid by the Authority. All monies shall be deposited in a bank or banks, to be designated by the Board, and all checks or other forms of withdrawal therefrom shall be signed by two officers of the Board as shall be designated in the By-Laws or by resolution of the Board. The officers of the Board shall have such other powers and duties as may be conferred upon them by the Board. The Board shall prior to December 15 of each year, prepare, adopt and file with the legislative bodies of the constituent municipalities, an annual budget for the next fiscal year covering the proposed expenditures to be made for the organizing and operating of the Authority, and for the necessary funds required from each constituent municipality for the next fiscal year.

ARTICLE XI

The authority shall have power to acquire property necessary for its purpose by purchase, construction, lease, gift, devise or condemnation, either within or without its corporate limits, and may hold management, control, sell, exchange or lease such property. For the purpose of condemnation it may proceed under the provisions of Act 149, Public Acts of Michigan, 1911, as now or hereafter amended, or any other appropriate statute.

ARTICLE XII

The Authority and its constituent municipalities may enter into a contract or contracts providing for the acquisition, purchase, construction, improvement, enlargement, extension, operation and financing of a water system or a sewage disposal system or any part thereof as authorized and provided in the enabling act. The Authority may, subject to the prior approval of the constituent municipalities, enter into contracts with any non-constituent city, village or township for the furnishing of water or sewage disposal service by any sewage disposal facilities owned or operated by the Authority, which contract shall provide for reasonable charges or rates for such service furnished. No contracts shall be for a period exceeding forty years.

ARTICLE XIII

For the purpose of obtaining funds for the acquisition, purchase, construction, improvement, enlargement or extension of a sewage disposal system or any part thereof, the Authority may, upon ordinance or resolution duly adopted by the Board, issue its negotiable bonds, secured by contractual full faith and credit pledges of each contracting municipality, in accordance with and subject to the provisions of the enabling act.

ARTICLE XIV

The board shall have power to secure all necessary services and to hire all necessary officers and employees to carry out the functions of the Authority and to fix the compensation therefor: Provided, however, that no officer or employee of any constituent municipality shall receive any compensation from the Authority except by the unanimous vote or the total membership of the Board.

ARTICLE XV

The Board shall cause an annual audit to be made of its financial transactions by an independent certified public accountant and shall furnish at least five copies thereof to each constituent municipality.

ARTICLE XVI

These Articles shall be published once in The Daily Eagle and The Belleville Enterprise & The Legal Times, newspapers having general circulation within the territorial limits of the Authority, and one printed copy of the Articles, certified as a true copy thereof, with the date and place of publication, shall be filed with both the Secretary of State and the Clerk of the County or Wayne within thirty days after the execution thereof has been completed. The Township Clerk of the Township of Van Buren is hereby designated as the person to cause these Articles to be published, certified and filed as aforesaid. In the event he shall be unable to act or shall neglect to act, then the Township Clerk of the Township of Canton shall act in his stead.

ARTICLE XVII

This Authority shall become effective upon the filing of certified copies of these Articles as provided in the preceding Article.

ARTICLE XVIII

These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time so as to permit any other municipality to become a constituent municipality of this Authority, if such amendment and the Articles of Incorporation as so amended are adopted by the legislative body of such other municipality and if such amendment is adopted by the legislative body of each constituent municipality of which the Authority is composed. Other amendments may be made to these Articles of Incorporation at any time if adopted by the legislative body of each constituent municipality of which the Authority is composed. Any such amendment shall be endorsed, published, and certified, and printed copies thereof filed in the same manner as the original Articles of Incorporation, except that the filed and printed copies shall be certified by the recording officer of this Authority.

These Articles have been adopted by the several incorporating municipalities, as hereinafter set forth in the following endorsements, and in witness whereof the Supervisor and Clerk of the Township of Canton and the Supervisor and Clerk of the Township of Van Buren have endorsed thereon the statement of such adoption.
